

Abundance Therapy Education and Coaching

Affirmation Bubbles

In each bubble write something positive about yourself! This can just be a word or a sentence starting with I am... I can... If you struggle think about how your family and friends would describe you. You can only write nice things about yourself. Read this sheet before bedtime every night to remind yourself of all the wonderful things you are.

